FOR PROFESSIONALS

You weren’t given a manual. Neither were your youth.

The Map to Adulthood is a free, openly accessible guide to the practical skills that young people are rarely taught: budgeting, filing taxes, finding housing, navigating a job offer, and more. It exists to fill the gap between leaving school and knowing how to function as an adult.

WHAT’S INSIDE

Finance
Budgeting, taxes, credit, insurance, and investing.

Career
Resumes, job hunting, negotiation, and workplace basics.

Learning
College, trade school, financial aid, and study skills.

Life Skills
Housing, cooking, car care, digital safety, and more.

45+ free guides.

Organized into sections and curated pathways. No login. No paywall. No catch.

WHO IT’S FOR

- Transition-age youth (16–24)
  Young people navigating the gap between school and independent adulthood.
- Foster care alumni & aging-out youth
  Individuals leaving the system without a built-in support network.
- Guidance-less young adults
  Anyone whose family couldn’t model how to handle money, careers, or housing.
- Rural and underserved communities
  Where formal resources are scarce and plain-language guidance matters most.
